Expressing Women Power

Shakti Swaroopa

The colours of Shakti

The dance drama Shaktiswaroopa (The Colours of Shakti) is a celebration of virtues and attributes of Indian woman. It is a powerful medium to represent the values and strengths inherent in her. Indian woman is a picture of tolerance, affection and sacrifice and yet she can inspire awe and respect with her fortitude, determination and courage.

Whether it is Sita, Draupadi, Mirabai or Rani of Jhansi, Indian woman in every age has proved her steely inner resolve, firmness and fearlessness.

These unique qualities have lent a special grace to her. She is physically delicate but endowed with enormous will power. She may be full of affection but is also capable of Kali like rage. She seeks love yet she is exacting and self respecting too.

Since the dawn to time till today her personality has unfolded in many ways reflecting myriad emotions and virtues like love, propriety, sacrifice, strength and power. It is this multi-faceted persona that inspires us to look at her as an able and powerful being. This is the main leitmotif of the Kathak Dance Drama, Shaktiswaroopa (The Colours of Shakti).
